Course Description

Drawing IV -V is an extension of Drawing I, II, and III, and promotes more individual interests in drawing. Personal thematic approaches are encouraged, as well use of imagery, media, and process to communicate these personally driven themes. Individual and group conversation and critique is expected, as well as maintaining a strong work ethic and daily practice of art making. Imagery and conversations in art are supported through art historical and contemporary approaches to gain a broad perspective of drawing.

Prerequisites: Art 1313 Drawing I and Art 1323 Drawing II and Art 3213 Drawing III or consent of instructor

Course Objectives

Upon the successful completion of this course, students will have gained a further understanding and appreciation from the drawing discipline and its applications. A broad spectrum of approaches and outcomes are explored through studies as well as finished works.

Requirements and Expectations

Drawings and Critiques:

Finished drawings will be completed on appropriate surfaces, using quality media choices, all determined through early conversations with the Instructor and receiving input from the rest of the class. Size, media, imagery, and other factors, while individual in their approach, will be informed through these conversations as well. No less than 5 major works will be completed and 5 studies. One work will be large scale, while one will be multi-panel.

Sketchbooks:

Students are expected to maintain a sketchbook specific to this class. There will be required work to be completed within the sketchbook, but mainly, students are expected to work independently in their sketchbooks (thumbnail sketches, studies, gestures, more complete drawings, notes, planning out projects, etc.) Please do not tear pages out of your sketchbook – undesired ends and failures are necessary in all processes, and they should be preserved the same as desirable outcomes and successes.

Homework Environment:

Students should create a studio environment in which to execute homework. In an ideal studio, a student should be able to work at various distances, heights, and angles from the subject; move away from the drawing to view it at a distance; control lighting; work at various sizes, and create a desired environment – loud or quiet, bright or dark, etc. It is also advisable to work at an easel or pin drawings onto the wall – make sure whatever surface you use to draw upon, it is smooth, having no texture. If a space such as this is unavailable, students are always welcome to use the drawing studios. (They should refer to the posted class schedules to know the class times they need to work around.) Working outside of class is an essential factor in successful completion of this course.

Work Ethic:

Personal motivation and discipline are keys to a student's success in this course. These qualities are demonstrated to me by actions - such as preparation for each class, thoughtful inquiry, involvement in projects, discussions, and critiques, and the successful resolution of various problems and challenges presented throughout the course. Students should expect to spend at least seven hours per week on homework in addition to studio/class time. Further, all work should be stored and transported in a manner that preserves it for critiques and portfolio reviews. Late work will be lower in grade.

Evaluation

Student work will be reviewed by means of formal critique evaluations and portfolio reviews. Students will be evaluated according to predetermined requirements for all drawings. For projects a "100 point scale" is used. Individual grades and average grades given out throughout the semester.

Final Grade Summary:

A = 90 – 100% B = 80 – 89 % C = 70 – 79% D = 60 – 69% F = 59 % OR LESS

Please save all work an organized, chronological manner.

No Final Exam will be given; your final grade will be calculated from the entirety of work produced.

All due dates will be printed on assignments as they are given. It is the student's responsibility to maintain a proper calendar of due dates, upcoming critiques, and academic events. Note that dates may change from those listed on the syllabus.

Late work will be counted against; one letter grade for each class period after it is due. Ex: An A grade is lowered to B after one period late, after two periods late the A is lowered to C, etc.

Students should never miss a class critique. Apart from late grades on projects, this counts against overall participation.

Plagiarism is unacceptable and will result in a 0 for the project. No exceptions. Any students found guilty of academic dishonesty is subject to disciplinary action as per the student handbook.

Attendance, Absence, and Late Policy

Students enrolled in the Juanita and Ralph Harvey School of Visual Arts must comply with the following department-wide Attendance, Absence, and Lateness Policy:

- Students arriving 10 minutes after class begins will be considered late, and will be counted absent.
- Three late arrivals count as a single absence.
- Students may be absent from class 3 times without penalty and without providing any documentation regarding the absence.
- If a student incurs a 4th absence, his or her final course evaluation will be reduced by a full letter grade.
- If a student is absent 5 times, whatever the reason, he or she will receive a failing grade (F) for the course, dropped from class roll, and be asked to stop attending class
- Students are required to remain in class for the entire class session. Students will earn an absence if they leave before the professor has dismissed class.
- Excused absences must be brought before me prior to the absence, or if later, the student must have supporting documentation (academic, medical, or family emergency) in the case of excessive absences.

Conduct Statement

Behavior that interferes with either the instructor's ability to conduct the class or the ability of other students to benefit from the instruction will result in the instructor's removing the disruptive student(s) from the class, either temporarily or permanently (instructor drop), and receive a final lower grade, up to and including F. In addition, and depending on the nature of the behavior or conduct, the student(s) may be subject to further disciplinary actions as per MSU policies.

Student Honor Creed

"As an MSU Student, I pledge not to lie, cheat, steal, or help anyone else do so."

As students at MSU, we recognize that any great society must be composed of empowered, responsible citizens. We also recognize universities play an important role in helping mold these responsible citizens. We believe students themselves play an important part in developing responsible citizenship by maintaining a community where integrity and honorable character are the norm, not the exception.

Thus, We, the Students of Midwestern State University, resolve to uphold the honor of the University by affirming our commitment to complete academic honesty. We resolve not only to be honest but also to hold our peers accountable for complete honesty in all university matters.

We consider it dishonest to ask for, give, or receive help in examinations or quizzes, to use any unauthorized material in examinations, or to present, as one's own, work or ideas which are not entirely one's own. We recognize that any instructor has the right to expect that all student work is honest, original work. We accept and acknowledge that responsibility for lying, cheating, stealing, plagiarism, and other forms of academic dishonesty fundamentally rests within each individual student.

We expect of ourselves academic integrity, personal professionalism, and ethical character. We appreciate steps taken by University officials to protect the honor of the University against any who would disgrace the MSU student body by violating the spirit of this creed.

Written and adopted by the 2002-2003 MSU Student Senate.

COVID-19 Related Policies

1) Health and Safety

Safety precautions take precedent over all other considerations. This includes but not limited to: wearing proper masks at all times, keeping at least 6 feet distance from others, washing hands, and cleaning your area when finished. Expect to spend roughly 5-10 minutes of class when arriving and leaving to clean your area and assist in cleaning high traffic areas in class. Students not adhering to these precautions will be asked to leave and count absent for the day.

2) Split Class

Drawing III will use a hybrid method (face to face with online) to split the full class of students into different meeting times. For example, Group A will meet face to face on Tuesdays, with Group B on Thursdays. On Thursday classes, Group A students will view online demos, pdf instructions, contribute to D2L discussions, and continue working on projects from home, while Group B does this on Tuesdays. Zoom will be made available for a portion of this class period to answer questions. Though not meeting face to face, this is still considered valuable class time and working on class work is required. It is the student's responsibility to view all materials on D2L; this includes seeking out reliable computer and internet access. Check D2L and Email often.

3) Room Use

Note that beyond Drawing III, other classes will use C106. These are Painting I - V, Mon/Wed 9 - noon, and Drawing I, Tues/Thurs 2 - 5 pm. Please respect the space during this time and plan your studio times around other classes. These classes will follow the same policy and should not enter during your working times.

4) Exceptions of Studio Time

Though students would generally meet on their assigned days, exceptions may occur:

- 1) If a student missed class with an excused absence, he or she can email me 24 hours ahead of class time requesting to join on their 'off' day. This must not be the norm and students are not to make their own schedule.
- 2) Students requiring more face to face time or studio time, may email 24 hours ahead of class. Again, this is a special case. Office Hours are encouraged in the case of questions.
- 3) Students that are graduating, or nearing graduation, may make a similar request.
- 4) The Instructor has the right to refuse any requests based on maintaining reasonably safe conditions, and overall number of students should never exceed capacity of 15 during class or out of class studio times.
