Deadlines for submission of assignments are provided in this syllabus. Failure to comply with the established deadlines may result in a grade reduction. Assignment submissions will be considered complete and will be graded as such. Be sure to look at all requirements before submitting to the appropriate dropbox within D2L.

This course extends over both summer sessions. The last opportunity to drop this course with a grade of "W" is 4:00pm, CST, July 8, 2021. Refer to the Graduate Bulletin for details about receiving a grade of "Incomplete" in a course. In an emergency or extenuating circumstance, a student may request a grade of "Incomplete" in a course before grades are submitted. If the instructor grants the "Incomplete," the student has until ninety (90) days after the beginning of the next long semester to complete the course requirements. If the student does not complete the course requirements within the deadline, the grade of "Incomplete" will automatically convert into a grade of "F."

ATTENDANCE

This is an online course, and there are no mandatory face-to-face sessions. However, the student should be vigilant in logging into D2L for announcements and discussion board participation. Regular email checks will ensure messages from the instructor are received in a timely manner. Note: The University operates from 7am to 6pm Monday through Thursday during the summer semester.

ASSIGNMENTS

Generational Differences Directed Reading Quiz (20%)

Students will read the directed reading article on generational differences. The article is available within D2L. After reading the article, students will complete a short quiz within D2L covering content from the article. Students may use the article to answer the questions. The quiz format contains only multiple-choice questions. Both the article and quiz are located under the course "Home" items.

Short answer textbook assignment (30%)

The short-answer assignment provides students with an investigative question/answer approach to perceived management generational issues in the workplace. The assignment requires students to write brief responses to a series of randomly selected questions from the required textbooks. Students should (1) limit discussion/description questions to \leq 100 words, (2) use a bullet list as instructed, and (3) refer to chapter content information and text index to locate content to build question responses. This assignment is found under the course "Home" items.

Movie/Book Critique (50%)

It is interesting (and sometimes surprising) to examine non-scholarly products from a scholarly perspective. Movies or books can portray social issues or themes in such dramatic or compelling ways that they leave a lasting impression.

After watching a movie or reading a non-textbook (TV series is also acceptable) and considering how it portrays generational issues, students will write a critique and submit to the appropriate D2L dropbox by the due date indicated on the course schedule. The critique should include:

- Brief summary of the story line or plot.
- Analysis of how the movie or book supports or does not support the information presented in the course and assigned textbooks. Be specific and cite sources to give the critique credibility.
- Explanation of why the student would/would not recommend this movie or book to someone who wants to learn more about generational issues.

Other guidelines include:

- Microsoft Word document, double-spaced, 12-pt font, 1" margins
- APA title page not necessary (begin typing critique on the first page)
- Two to three pages in length

It is acceptable for students to write using personal pronouns and share their personal perspectives for this assignment. As needed, students should use appropriate APA format for in-text citations within the critique. Be certain to review the grading rubric within D2L to understand exactly how this statement will be evaluated.

PROGRESSION POLICY

Graduate students are expected to do uniformly high quality work on all MSRS coursework pursued (final course grades of A or B). Only grades of A or B are acceptable for graduate courses transferred from another university.

Graduate students may earn a grade of C in one or two graduate courses and be allowed to continue in the MSRS program as long as their cumulative GPA is 3.0 or higher. If a graduate student earns a grade of C in three or more graduate courses, the student will be dismissed from the MSRS program. Any grade below a C will also result in dismissal from the MSRS program.

GRADUATE COMPETENCIES

Graduates of the MSRS program should be able to:

- Use knowledge of current and future trends and well-developed skills to lead a medical imaging department, teach in a radiologic sciences program, or perform advanced clinical procedures.
- Use critical thinking strategies and communication skills to develop an ethical and legal framework for the resolution of concerns and issues in radiologic administration, education, or advanced clinical practice.
- Demonstrate leadership skills and knowledge of the political process to effect change within administration, education, or advanced clinical practice settings.
- Evaluate, design, and conduct research studies for the improvement of radiologic science administration, education, or advanced clinical practice.

Late Submission of Assignments

All assignments have due dates listed in the course schedule within this syllabus. Due dates are in place to keep students on target for the semester and allow for instructors to provide detailed, constructive feedback. Assignments not turned in on time will result in a "0" being assessed for that assignment. With that being said, the instructor understands students who are enrolled in the MSRS program tracks may be responsible for managing many employees/students and family matters. If you need any assistance regarding a deadline, you must contact the instructor at least two (2) days before the due date to discuss the issue. "After the fact" will not be accepted and will result in a grade of "0." Emergencies (death, severe illness, etc.) occur; thus, students should contact the instructor as soon as possible to resolve any due date conflicts. Extensions will be decided on a case-by-case basis.
