Course Objectives/Description

- Students will obtain practical experience working for the student media.
- Students will improve the skills in their chosen areas, such as, but not limited to, writing/reporting, editing, photography, graphic design, video production and advertising/sales/marketing/promotion.

Prerequisites

- Consent of instructor and department chair.

Reading

- No required textbooks or reading.

Grading

An on-site practicum is not like other courses in which there are set meeting times. The Mass Communication Department considers the practicum a form of employment, and as such, students are expected to conduct themselves as employees with little faculty oversight. This means it is up to you to attend regularly, arrive on time, dress appropriately, conduct yourself professionally (this means, among other expectations, that you will not send and receive personal calls, text messages or e-mails while officially on duty), meet deadlines, and participate as a team member, among other responsibilities. As I will not be there day to day to make sure these responsibilities are met – as I would be in a traditional course – I rely on students to behave as adults. I also rely on reports from your supervisor. More information on professional expectations is included below.

You are expected to communicate with me and/or your supervisor about any problems that occur during the semester.

Final grades will be based on quality of work, quantity of work, student's dependability and weekly logs. Students will sign a contract stating what, exactly, all parties involved have agreed to. A blank copy of the contract is at the end of this document.

Logs are to be kept daily and submitted weekly. Logs must detail what you worked on and your assessment of your performance. Grades will be based on timely submission as well as quality. Do not submit several weeks' worth of logs at the end of the semester. Logs must be written using standard grammar, spelling and punctuation (in other words, don't send logs written as if u r sending a txt-msg ☹). Handwritten logs will not be accepted. If your logs fail to follow these guidelines, you will be asked to revise and resubmit.

Example of Weekly Log

Monday, January 20, 2024

I arrived at 11 a.m. and met with the editor Sally, who reviewed my photos from the basketball game. She said most of the photos were usable but not very exciting. She suggested that I try to get more action shots and a few crowd shots. I am going to go to the game next Tuesday night and will remember those tips. I was also concerned about the lighting and how that would affect the photos, but Sally said she thought they looked good.

Please note that you must write an entry for each day you work at your practicum. You may submit your logs via e-mail, fax (940-397-4909) or mail; or you may put them in my mailbox in the department office. I will verify that I have received your logs.

Please note that there is no provision for late work. If you have a legitimate excuse for missing deadline, please contact me.

If you produce any materials for the organization (e.g., articles, media releases, videos, photos, web sites, social media posts), samples must be submitted before final deadline.

Around halfway through the semester, I will contact your supervisor for a midterm report on your progress.

You are required to remember that you are representing the department and the university during your practicum. As such, you are expected to conduct yourself in ways that will not bring embarrassment to the department or university.

If you cannot make it a priority to behave responsibly and professionally, please drop now. If you cannot make it a priority to represent the department and the university in ways that will keep our reputation intact, please drop now.

If you cannot make it a priority to complete every assignment, on time, please drop now so another student, who is more serious, can have your spot.

Appropriate conduct – in the classroom, with the instructor and in any other class-related situations – is required at all times. The instructor has the right to remove disruptive, disrespectful students (or students creating any other kinds of problems) from the classroom and take other disciplinary actions as necessary. In addition, students are expressly prohibited from attending class or class-related activities, including visits to the professor's office, while under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs. Please see information under Alcohol and Drugs below.

No food and beverages are allowed beyond water, or if allowed in the specific classroom, other non-alcoholic drinks. Past students have brought fast food, breakfast and salads to class, and this is not appropriate.

Proper Communication with Me: Unlike some faculty, I do not generally give my cell. phone number to students. However, I am in my office far more than just during office hours, and I have an open-door policy (if I am in the office, the door is almost always open, unless I am discussing something of a private nature). If someone is already in my office when you arrive, please wait in the hall or work-café (i.e., don't hover in the doorway and don't interrupt unless it is truly an emergency). I try to return phone calls and respond to e-mails quickly. Please observe proper grammar and other rules of etiquette in your e-mails (e.g., "Hello Dr. Sernoe" is a far more professional greeting than "Hey!" or, worse, no greeting at all) (in fact, greeting me as "Sernoe" is also inappropriate). Please remember this not a DM 2 ur friends 😊 – you are sending a professor an e-mail. There's a difference. Please note also that I am not attached to devices 24/7. I generally do not look at e-mail after 6 p.m. or before 7 a.m. If you e-mail me at 1 a.m. or on the weekend with a question, do not expect an immediate answer.

I reserve the right to drop any student with an F if he/she has excessive absences or missed assignments, engages in disruptive behavior, has a poor attitude, or in any other way is clearly not taking the class seriously.

By accepting this syllabus and remaining enrolled in this course, you are indicating that you understand my expectations for students concerning attendance, attitude and work ethic.

In order to help students keep track of their progress toward course objectives, the instructor is required to provide a Midterm Progress Report through each student's Navigate account. Midterm grades will not be reported on the student's transcript, nor will they be calculated in the cumulative GPA. They do, however, give students an idea of where they stand at the midpoint of the semester. Students earning below a C at the midway point should contact me as soon as possible to discuss future actions.

Related: If you are unsure of where you stand in this course, you are welcome to – encouraged to – contact me. I am more than willing to go over your grades with you.

Also related: MSU faculty also have the option of filing an Academic Referral and/or a Conduct Referral with appropriate offices, both of which will follow-up with students. I reserve the right to file such referrals when needed. I will always try to contact the student first to request a meeting, but if the student does not respond appropriately, I will file the relevant referral(s).

Two final notes on grading: Critics from both within and outside of higher education have accused faculty of engaging in "grade inflation," the idea that grades don't truly reflect quality and instead have been devalued to the point that an A means very good, a B means average, and anything less than a B is failing. I'm not sure whether those people would include me in their criticisms, but I do know I try my best to adhere to the system as I understand it: an A means outstanding, a B means above average, and a C means average. Please remember these interpretations as the semester progresses.

Please remember also that attending every class and completing every assignment do not constitute outstanding quality or guarantee an A for the course. Attending every class and completing every assignment are only prerequisites for achieving a desired grade in the class. Too many students have argued that these are the reasons they deserved an A in the class, and I do not buy into this way of thinking.

By accepting this syllabus and remaining enrolled in this course, you are indicating that you understand the grading policies for the course. If you have questions, you should see me as soon as possible.

Ethics

Don't cheat.

"Not everyone cheats. Not everyone cuts corners. There isn't a diploma in the world that's more valuable than your integrity. And you can't buy your integrity back." – Jason Gay, commenting in The Wall Street Journal on the recent admissions scandals involving celebrities and the wealthy, March 14, 2019, p. A16.

The MSU Student Honor Creed, written and adopted by the 2002-2003 Student Senate, covers expectations related to cheating and other forms of academic dishonesty. The main statement from this document is:

"As an MSU student, I pledge not to lie, cheat, steal, or help anyone else to do so."

All students in my courses are expected to abide by this student-produced document, as well as all other related university policies. I will provide copies of the MSU Student Honor Creed to any student who requests one. It is also available online at MSU Honor Creed.

In addition, the university requires faculty to provide this statement to all students:

By enrolling in this course, the student expressly grants MSU a "limited right" in all intellectual property created by the student for the purpose of this course. The "limited right" shall include but shall not be limited to the right to reproduce the student's work product in order to verify originality and authenticity, and educational purposes.

By accepting this syllabus and remaining enrolled in this course, you are indicating that you understand the statement provided above and agree to comply with it.

I require complete honesty in producing your work. Working professionals are often encouraged to confer with their colleagues on strategies and wordings, but there is a difference between advice and blatant plagiarism.

I also realize it will be very easy to confer with colleagues on take-home assignments, but you should realize that instructors can usually identify when students have worked together. I also realize the Internet provides a convenient source of information, but students need to be aware that proper citation will be required.

The use of generative artificial intelligence (AI) tools, such as, but not limited to, ChatGPT, Google Bard and Bing, is not permitted in this course; therefore, any use of AI tools for work in this class may be considered a violation of MSU and/or course policy as the work is not your own. You are required to produce your own work, using your own brain. The use of unauthorized AI tools is considered academic dishonesty and will result in referral to the Office of Student Conduct. Exceptions may be made for specific assignments/projects, but in general, students are required to proceed as if AI does not exist.

Bottom line: I am interested in what you, the student, write, not what a machine writes for you.

The learning outcomes for this course, listed above, make it clear that the goals revolve around you, the student, in partnership with me, the professor, taking the initiative to learn. Technology can't do that for you.

Please note that submitting the same work for two courses is considered academic dishonesty. Even if another professor agrees to accept the work, I will treat it as academic dishonesty and take subsequent action.

Past students will tell you I take this issue very seriously and have not hesitated to confront them. A slightly higher grade on an assignment is not worth the extremely unpleasant experience of taking an accusation of academic dishonesty through the university hierarchy. Please don't force me to do it.

I reserve the right to drop any student with an F if he/she engages in any form of academic dishonesty. I further reserve the right to recommend other sanctions as may be appropriate. Students are also encouraged to consult the following sources for additional discussion of students' rights and responsibilities regarding cheating, attendance and general conduct:

- The MSU Student Honor Creed, available online at MSU Honor Creed.
- The 2024-2025 MSU Undergraduate Catalog, available online at MSU Undergraduate Catalog.
- The 2024-2025 MSU Student Handbook (the handbook is also available online at MSU Student Handbook).

By accepting this syllabus and remaining enrolled in this course, you are indicating that you understand the seriousness of academic dishonesty and realize I will impose the harshest sanctions possible if I can prove you have engaged in academic dishonesty. You are also indicating that you understand what constitutes academic dishonesty; I will not tolerate the excuse that the student did not know he/she was engaging in academic dishonesty.

Privacy

Federal privacy law prohibits me from releasing information about students to certain parties outside of the university without the signed consent of the student. Thus, in almost all cases I will not discuss your academic progress or other matters with your parents. Please do not have them call me. Regardless of these important legal considerations, it is my general policy to communicate with the students, not their parents, even when a student has signed a consent form. College students are adults and are expected to behave accordingly.

One possible exception is information for parents or emergency contacts that is determined on a need-to-know basis.

Related: Due to security and confidentiality concerns, I generally do not discuss grades and other sensitive information over e-mail.

Alcohol and Drugs

Midwestern State University has developed a drug and alcohol prevention program in accordance with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989. As stated above, students are expressly prohibited from attending class or class-related activities, including visits to the professor's office, while under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs.

Please be advised that any violations of the law, of MSU policy or class policy will be reported immediately.

Campus Carry

Effective August 1, 2016, the Campus Carry law (Senate Bill 11) allows those licensed individuals to carry a concealed handgun in buildings on public university campuses, except in locations the University establishes as prohibited. The new Constitutional Carry law does not change this process. Concealed carry still requires a License to Carry permit, and openly carrying handguns is not allowed on college campuses. For more information, visit Campus Carry.

Please be advised that any violations of the law will be reported immediately.

Active Shooter

The safety and security of our campus is the responsibility of everyone in our community. Each of us has an obligation to be prepared to appropriately respond to threats to our campus, such as an active aggressor. Please review the information provided by MSU Police Department regarding the options and strategies we can all use to stay safe during difficult situations. For more information, visit Safety / Emergency Procedures. Students are encouraged to watch the video "Run. Hide. Fight." which may be accessed via the MSU Police Department's webpage at "Run. Hide. Fight."

Other Safety Concerns

Please be advised that I make it a point to review safety procedures during the first week of class, to include active shooter and weather-related situations.

I will also provide students with a handout called Emergency Preparedness Information. This information will be posted to the class D2L page as well.

You are urged to download the MSU Safety App and to join the MSU Emergency Alert system. Information about these services can be found at Safety / Emergency Procedures.

Alcohol and Drugs

Midwestern State University has developed a drug and alcohol prevention program in accordance with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989. As stated above, students are expressly prohibited from attending class or class-related activities, including visits to the professor's office, while under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs.

Please be advised that any violations of the law, of MSU policy or class policy will be reported immediately.

Special Accommodations/Emergencies/Outside Difficulties

Students with disabilities or who are in need of special arrangements should see me as early as possible in the semester. I cannot help you if you come to me at the last minute. I will do what I can within reason to accommodate your needs, but federal law requires me to remain fair to all students.

Please note that in order to qualify for consideration of special accommodations, you must be registered with the MSU Office of Disability Support Services, and I must have a memo on file from that office, along with the Special Accommodations Request form.

If you have specific medical information that needs sharing or you need specific accommodations in case of emergencies or emergency evacuations, please see me as soon as possible.

If you have outside circumstances that may affect your performance in this class – including but not limited to food insecurity, inadequate housing, family issues – please contact me if you are comfortable in doing so. I may be able to refer you to on-campus resources that will help you address the situation.

Further information is available through the following links:

Please note that all information provided to me remains confidential.

A Reminder Regarding The Portfolio Requirement

Please note that all mass communication majors are required to submit a portfolio during their Internship course (please note that Internship is a prerequisite to Senior Production). This requirement is a part of MSU's reaccreditation with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and is non-negotiable. Students are required to demonstrate communication competence through the written word and visual communication; two examples of each competency are required for the portfolio.

As you go through this and other classes, you are responsible for saving course work that could be included in your portfolio.

Please see me, your adviser or any mass communication faculty member for handouts with more information (“Mass Communication Portfolio Competencies” and “Mass Communication Portfolio FAQ”). These handouts are also available at:

Student's Obligations

- Students must turn in weekly logs of daily duties and any work that is produced. Each day worked must be documented. Logs may be submitted by e-mail, postal mail, or in-person. Logs must be turned in each week as the semester progresses, unless other arrangements have been made with the professor. Handwritten logs will not be accepted.
- Students who produce any materials for the organization (e.g., articles, press releases, designs, recordings, video, podcasts) must submit samples with their logs.
- Students are required to remember that they are representing the department and the university during their practicum. As such, they are expected to behave in ways that will not bring embarrassment to the department or university. Professional conduct at all times is required.
- Related: students who agree to a project, deadline or any other arrangement, then find they are unable to complete the requirements, are required to communicate clearly and in a timely manner not only with colleagues at the organization, but also any professor who may be involved.
- Students understand that while mistakes may happen, they are still accountable to the organization.
- Students understand that the supervisor (e.g., student editor, another faculty member) and course instructor will be in contact during the term of the internship.
