Course Description

This course will introduce students to the American political system with a brief survey of the political dynamics of the state of Texas. By the conclusion of this course, students will have a basic understanding of the key components of American and Texas politics, such as political culture, the constitution, federalism, election, political parties, interest groups, and the media. To do that, we will study historical evolution of the American political system and see how Texas state politics have developed in conjunction with the federal government. This course also provides students with opportunities to practice various analytical skills in a range of real-world cases. Classes will include lecture, debates, and presentations, which will help students stay up to date on current issues.

Course Objectives

By the completion of this course, students are expected to have achieved the following learning outcomes. They will be able to:

- Understand the key structural features of the US federal government, including the legislative branch, executive branch, and judiciary.
- Understand the key structural features of the Texas state government, including the Texas legislature, executive branch, and judiciary.
- Understand the civil liberties and describe the origin of the Bill of Rights and how those rights came to apply to the states.
- Understand civil rights and describe how different groups have fought for and won protections for their rights.
- Understand the steps and concepts to engage in political participation and policy making at the local, state and national level.
- Think critically about policy-making in American and Texas politics and engage in meaningful civic participation.

NOTE: The syllabus provides a general plan for the course, and changes may be necessary throughout the semester. Changes in the course syllabus, procedure, assignments, and schedule may be made at the discretion of the instructor.

MSU Core Curriculum

POLS 1433 fulfills a requirement of the MSU Core Curriculum. In this course students will demonstrate:

- Critical thinking
- Oral communication
- Personal responsibility
- Civic engagement

Course Requirements:

Completing ALL the readings and regular attendance will be required of all students. Active participation in discussions is critical for students to succeed in this course. Books for POLS 1433 and 1333 are available as e-books in D2L. The required textbooks for the course are:

1. Theodore J Lowi, Benjamin Ginsberg, Kenneth A. Shepsle, and Stephen Ansolabehere. 2025. American Government: Power and Purpose. 18th Edition. New York: WW Norton.
2. Anthony Champagne and Edward J. Harpham. 2025. Governing Texas, 7th Edition. New York: WW Norton.

Grades:

1. Exams (First 2 : 25 points each / Final: 40 points): Each exam will consist of multiple-choice questions and some short answer questions. Questions will test your understanding of the key concepts of American and Texas politics that will be covered in class. 80% total.
2. Class attendance (taken at random). 10%
3. Civic Engagement Project. 10%
4. Extra Credit: I generally offer extra credit assignments outside of class. These will be announced in class—they will be linked to current events and offered once per exam section.

Grading: On each exam and for the final grade, points will be assigned according to the following scale: Letter Grade Numerical Grade

A 90-100
B 80-89
C 70-79
D 60-69
F 59-0

Civic Engagement Project

The Civic Engagement Project assesses a student's ability based on 1.) oral communication, 2.) critical thinking, 3.) social responsibility, and 4.) personal responsibility. All students are required to submit a presentation related to a (relatively) current event and how they feel government should respond to it, citing evidence and a thoughtful narrative. The 5-10 minute presentation should include an in-depth case study on a topical political issue and some questions for class discussion. An effective and thoughtful presentation will earn extra credit. These will be submitted on DL2 for a grade worth 10% of the final grade (Due November 15th).

On Academic Honesty

Cheating, collusion, and plagiarism (the act of using source material of other persons, either published or unpublished, without following the accepted techniques of crediting, or the submission for credit of work not the individuals to whom credit is given). Additional guidelines on procedures in these matters may be found in the Office of Student Conduct.

Student Disability Services

Any student having an education disability plan on file with the university needs to inform me within the first week of the class, so I make the appropriate arrangements to accommodate your situation. In accordance with Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Midwestern State University endeavors to make reasonable accommodations to ensure equal opportunity for qualified persons with disabilities to participate in all educational, social, and recreational programs and activities. After notification of acceptance, students requiring accommodations should make application for such assistance through Disability Support Services, located in the Clark Student Center, Room 168, (940) 397-4140. Class Policies:

Attendance and Engagement:

Absences: Class attendance is important. Students who do not attend class often have difficulty with the course and receive lower grades. Attendance will be taken at each class meeting and will be noted in Attendance and Engagement. Students missing more than 9 course periods may be dropped from the course without notice. Excused absences will be those as follows: illness, death in the family, legal proceedings occurring during class period, university-approved absence such as travel as member of a MSU sports team, or emergency situation as determined by me. Excused absences require documentation, such as a doctor's note. To have absences excused, I must receive all documentation for the absences within *2 weeks of your return to class. Any documentation received after more than 2 weeks will not be accepted and absences will remain unexcused. No documentation will be accepted after the final class period of the semester.

Engagement:

Engagement during class is as important as attendance. Students are expected to engage in the class and be fully present with their engagement. Students observed using 3 mobile phones, reading non-class materials, or otherwise not fully engaged in class, will not receive engagement credit for that class period. Distracting behavior will also constitute non-engagement for the class period. This syllabus serves as the notice of the above policies; students will receive no further alert if engagement points are not earned during a class meeting. Lateness: I will take attendance at each class meeting. Students arriving after the role has been called will not be counted as on-time and will be marked as tardy; this means approximately more than 5 minutes late. Two tardies will be the equivalent to one absence. Students arriving more than 15 minutes late to class either in-person or online will be counted as absent for that class meeting. Students who leave early without an excuse that meets the excused absence criteria for this course may be marked tardy or absent, depending upon how much time remains in the course meeting. Leaving Class/Disruptions: Students are expected to be present for the entire class period. Excessively leaving the classroom during the class period is defined in this syllabus as more than 2 times during one class period or leaving 1 time for more than 10 minutes in one class period. Excessive trips outside of the classroom during a class period will be equivalent to 1 absence. This is a form of disruptive behavior. If a student requires accommodation to this rule (e.g. due to illness or medical condition), please let me know in advance. Disruptive Behavior: Furthermore, disruptive behavior, including but not limited to raising one's voice to the instructor or classmates, threatening the instructor or classmates, recording the instructor or classmates without permission, sharing screenshots or videos of course material or student work on other platforms, slurs and insults directed at the instructor or classmates, or other behavior that disrupts the course will not be tolerated. This syllabus serves as the warning that disruptive behavior will not be tolerated. Students committing disruptive behavior will be removed from the course. The Class Environment: This classroom is a place where all students will be treated with respect. We will work together to create an environment respectful to everyone in the class. Everyone is expected to engage with course material and with the ideas shared by me and the other students from the perspective of academic inquiry and discussion. When we agree or disagree, we will do so with civility and respect. It is the expectation that ALL students consider the classroom a safe environment. Harassment, sexual misconduct, violence, bullying, nor disruptive behavior will not be tolerated will result in removal from the classroom and reporting to the appropriate university authority. This syllabus is your warning.

D2L: This course will use D2L through MSU Texas as the online platform. All course material, including assigned textbooks, will be available in D2L.

Web Browser for D2L and D2L Help:

- D2L is the learning management system for MSU. It can be accessed through the MSU Homepage.
- The preferred web browser for D2L is Google Chrome.
- Problems using D2L should be directed to the D2L Help Desk. It is open 7 days a week from 8 AM-10 PM.

Assignments and Late Work:

No late work is accepted, except in unforeseen, limited circumstances such as a medical emergency requiring hospitalization for which documentation is provided. All other assignments not submitted by the due date will receive the mark of zero. Even with a documented excuse, no work is accepted after the final class period of the semester.

Grading Policy:

Grades will be determined in accordance with the information on grading in this syllabus. Although grades will be posted in the D2L gradebook, the weight of assignments may not always be reflected in the D2L gradebook. I will calculate the final course grade using the grade breakdown provided in this syllabus. Students are welcome to calculate their grades at any time and to use D2L to see their progress. However, I will not calculate individual grades for students during the course term, nor will I calculate hypothetical grading scenarios for individual students. In other words, please do not ask me what grade you will need to receive on a particular exam or assignment to earn a particular final grade. With the information provided in D2L and the syllabus, you are welcome to calculate different scenarios on your own.

Communication:

The best way to contact me is to visit me in my office during my office hours or via email (not via D2L email). My email address is listed on the first page of the syllabus. Most of the time, On weekends, I may not be checking email as often, so please be aware that I may not respond until Monday.

Missing the Final Exam:

If the final exam is missed and arrangements for a make-up exam have not been made in advance, the final exam cannot be made up.

Taking Exams Early:

Only under extraordinary circumstances can a student take an exam early. Only university-approved excuses, death in the family, or illness with a doctor's note be considered for taking an exam early. Scheduled vacations are not reasons for exam to be given early. The request for an early exam must be made in writing. For any reason, no request will be approved to schedule the final exam earlier than one week before its scheduled date.

Academic Dishonesty:

The MSU Honor Creed applies in this course, and students are expected to abide by it. As a reminder, here is the MSU Honor Creed:

As an MSU Student, I pledge not to lie, cheat, steal, or help anyone else do so."

As students at MSU, we recognize that any great society must be composed of empowered, responsible citizens. We also recognize universities play an important role in helping mold these responsible citizens. We believe students themselves play an important part in developing responsible citizenship by maintaining a community where integrity and honorable character are the norm, not the exception.

Thus, We, the Students of Midwestern State University, resolve to uphold the honor of the University by affirming our commitment to complete academic honesty. We resolve not only to be honest but also to hold our peers accountable for complete honesty in all university matters. We consider it dishonest to ask for, give, or receive help in examinations or quizzes, to use any unauthorized material in examinations, or to present, as one's own, work or ideas which are not entirely one's own. We recognize that any instructor has the right to expect that all student work is honest, original work. We accept and acknowledge that responsibility for lying, cheating, stealing, plagiarism, and other forms of academic dishonesty fundamentally rests within each individual student.

We expect of ourselves academic integrity, personal professionalism, and ethical character. We appreciate steps taken by University officials to protect the honor of the University against any who would disgrace the MSU student body by violating the spirit of this creed.

-Written and adopted by the 2002-2003 MSU Student Senate.

Student work in this course is expected to be original to the student and produced only for this course. Here is the reason: the purpose of this class is to help students learn to think critically about government and to be an active and engaged citizens. This means being able to demonstrate understanding of concepts and applying them to current and future political events. Doing that requires students to put in individual work in the course and for me to evaluate student work individually.

To maintain academic honesty in this class, here are the expectations:

- Students may not use the textbook, chapter summaries, notes, PowerPoints, lectures, or any online material during quizzes and exams.

- Students may not use electronic devices, such as cell phones, or listen to electronic devices (ie wearing headphones) during a quiz or exam; use of electronic devices during an exam will result in the quiz/exam paper being taken up and receiving a 0.

- Students may not collaborate with each other during quizzes or exams. Students looking at another's quiz or exam will have their quiz/exam paper taken up and receive a 0.

- Students may not collaborate to create substantially similar responses to writing assignments.

- In addition, students may not copy the textbook or websites, such as Wikipedia pages, for written response questions.

- Students may not memorize and write in-class response questions material copied or substantially copied from textbook materials or webpages.

- Each written assignment or written response is expected to be in your own words. Submitted work that replicates the textbook or a webpage will be considered academic dishonesty.

- In addition, students may not submit work from previous courses.

- AI tools, such as Chat GDP, may not be used to create assignments.

- AI Detection Detectors, such as Turnitin, will be used in this course and the results used in determining academic honesty.

In other words, all submitted work is expected to be fully your own thoughts and words and created for this course during this semester.
