Course Description

This course is designed to provide students with an overview of child welfare services from an historical, theoretical and practice perspective. Services to children and their families are divided into support services or those which enhance family life, supplemental services that help the struggling family to maintain or regain balance and substitute services or those that provide for the child when the family cannot on either a temporary or permanent basis. Each service is considered from the point of view of etiology, rationale for the services, the provision of the services, how the consumer views the service and trends that may affect future provision of the service. Services are also discussed in the light of their provision for a variety of diverse populations.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Define key features of the child welfare system (emphases on Texas)
- Examine the historical development of services
- Identify unique needs and issues (human diversity)
- Examine the impact of social and economic forces
- Identify key concepts in child advocacy services
- Identify key children's services
- Analyze policy impact on children's services
- Analyze bio-psycho-social variables
- Discuss how services to children and families are provided along a continuum from the least intrusive (support services), to somewhat more comprehensive (supplemental services), to services that substitute, either temporarily or permanently, for their natural family (substitute services)

- Discuss trauma-informed care and explain the importance of a trauma-informed approach
- Discuss the history of the provision of services for children and their families in the United States
- Explain the role of the family in the lives of children, how these roles can break down and how they differ according to the influence of diversity
- Demonstrate an understanding of how such social issues as poverty, violence, drug abuse and homelessness impact children and their families
- Recognize the concepts of family preservation, family support and permanency planning and explain what each means to children and families
- Give a brief overview of such services as daycare, services in schools, counseling, court services, protective services, services to teen parents, foster care, adoption and residential services
- Discuss the impact of children's services on those they serve
- Speculate knowledgeably on the trends in the future of services to children and families given the current societal attitudes and political climate

Writing Assistance

Begin drafting assignments as early as possible and take advantage of the TASP Learning Center. Located in Moffett Library, The Office of Tutoring and Academic Support Programs (TASP) offers a variety of resources designed to help students meet the demands of the college classroom. Their mission is to provide the necessary support to help students achieve academic success. Students are invited to bring any kind of writing to a session with a writing tutor. They do not provide an editing service; instead, they offer feedback and support to help writers develop into more effective communicators.

Student Handbook

Academic Misconduct Policy & Procedures

Academic Dishonesty: Cheating, collusion, and plagiarism (the act of using source material of other persons, either published or unpublished, without following the accepted techniques of crediting, or the submission for credit of work not the individual's to whom credit is given). Additional guidelines on procedures in these matters may be found in the Office of Student Conduct.

Grading

Table 1: Student achievement will be evaluated on the basis of written assignments, class exams, class participation, and class presentation.

Assignments	Percentage
Discussion Boards (6 averaged for total)	35%
Exams (4 averaged for total)	35%
Group Presentation	30%

Table 2: Weighted average will be used to calculate final grade.

Grade	Percentages
A	90-100
B	80 to 89
C	70 to 79
D	60 to 69
F	Less than 60

A grade less than C in this course is considered failing according to the Social Work Program Grade Policy and the course will have to be repeated to count towards Social Work Major Requirements.

Discussion Board Participation:

For each week, the instructor will post question(s) on D2L for the class to respond. Unless specified otherwise, everyone should post an initial response to the question(s) and should also respond to at least one peer's post. The discussion board is a mandatory component. Students are expected to participate actively throughout the summer sessions. Students are expected to write formally (no shorthand or text messaging abbreviations) and use APA format and referencing where appropriate. There will be general questions relating to the chapter(s), case vignettes, current events, and/or watching a video and posting your response. Thoughtful responses, constructive critique of fellow students, and meaningful participation are expected. Please keep in mind the discussion board is a formal assignment and part of your grade.

Discussion Thread Participation:

As stated earlier, the discussion board is a mandatory component. Discussion questions will be posted on the discussion board each week. Typically, your initial post to the discussion assignments are due by 11:30pm on Sundays and your responses to at least two peer's posts (you may respond to as many peers' posts as you want) are due by 11:30 pm on Mondays. Due dates will change at times during the semester (specifically for the introductory and final posts) so it is the responsibility of the student to follow the due dates listed in each post assignment.

If anyone fails to do the initial posts and fails to respond to peers' posts for any two discussion threads he or she may be dropped from the course.

I will review your posts and responses and give individual feedback when grading posts. I may respond in the discussion thread to a select few posts and/or responses or respond collectively to the class. This does not mean only the posts and/or responses of those to whom I respond are good and other posts and/or responses are not good.

Note: If needed, changes will be made in the syllabus while the sessions are on.

Exams

Students will complete 4 exams by 11:30 pm on Sundays based on the required book chapters as indicated in the class schedule. The quizzes are open book and notes, but there will be only 60-80 minutes to complete them (depending on number of questions). Exams cannot be made up if missed, and a grade of zero (0) will be recorded. No requests for late access will be considered unless the student has submitted documentation through the Dean of Student's office proving incapacitation for the entire week that the quiz was available.

Final

There will NOT be a final exam. The final project will be due in lieu of a final exam.

Final Project

APA style formatting is required for all written work in this course. Be sure to use appropriate APA style citations and references for any information you take from the textbook, handouts, reference materials, websites, or other outside sources while completing written assignments.

Description: During the first week of classes, students will be asked to organize into groups of 2 to 4 members for the purpose of creating group presentations for the course final project. You will post the names of your group members on the Group Presentation Selection Discussion Board for instructor approval by July 10th.

Each group will be responsible for submitting a PowerPoint presentation, including speaker notes to clarify slide content. You should prepare your presentation just as you would if you were going to be presenting to a live classroom. In lieu of including speaker notes, groups who wish may choose to submit a video of all members presenting the slides.

Background Information:

The future of child welfare depends largely on the policies and programs that are designed to protect and serve children. Responsibility for the formulation and implementation of policies that work falls on the shoulders of those about to enter the field as well as veteran advocates and policymakers. Therefore, it is important for new child welfare workers to know the issues and begin to search proactively for solutions.

Several resources will be added to the Final Presentation Section of the course. You will be required to read and/or watch some of the resources and others will simply be available for you to access to help with your understanding and the development of your presentation. You are expected to utilize additional reference material in your final presentation.

The purpose of the presentation is to identify strengths, challenges, issues, and opportunities in child welfare, or in your selected area of child welfare if you wish to specialize (i.e. foster care, juvenile justice, adoption, children in military families, etc.), and to present an accurate analysis, including AT LEAST ONE OPPORTUNITY FOR IMPROVEMENT that your group will investigate in its presentation.

Each group will create a PowerPoint Presentation and will submit it to the assignment drop box and also post it on the final discussion board. Presentations must include names of group members, a summary of issues to be covered, strengths, challenges, issues, opportunities (including at least one opportunity for improvement), conclusion and next steps, at least two questions for class discussion, and a list of sources (references) that have been consulted (minimum of 5 sources). Sources must be appropriately cited throughout your presentation.

Grading will be based on the following criteria: accurate identification of current topics and issues in the child welfare field, connections to established best practices, issues are presented in a logical order, inclusion of verifiable background facts, examples, and sources that help the reader locate additional information, critical analysis, reflectiveness, engagement of class, selection of relevant professional and scholarly references, creativity, and effective method of presentation.

All members of a group will receive the same grade. If a group agrees to an alternative arrangement for grading, the group must submit this agreement in writing and signed by all the members prior to their presentation, subject to the approval of the professor.

Equal Division of Responsibilities: Please ensure that everyone contributes equally to the presentation, including organizing/planning, brainstorming ideas, researching, critically thinking through the case, preparing PowerPoint or other audiovisual aids, and, if you elect to submit a video, participating in the presentation recording (you may divide responsibilities among group members, but ensure that there is approximately equal participation over the entire list of responsibilities). If a member of the group is not participating equally, then the group is responsible for letting the instructor know at least 5 days prior to the presentation. Please do not wait until just before the presentation is to be made. The instructor may ask that member to do a separate, individual assignment.

Late Work

Students who fail to post required assignments on time will receive a lower grade, and those who do not complete the assignments will receive a grade of zero (please review the time submission criteria on the rubrics for each assignment). If anyone fails to post an original post or replies for 2 or more assignments, they will be dropped from the course or will be given a failing grade. There are no exceptions to this rule.

Make Up Work/Tests

Make up work will only be considered in cases of university excused absences or verifiable emergencies. Students will not be allowed to take make up exams after the original exam has been given.

Important Dates

Deadline for August graduates to file for graduation: June 28th

Last Day to drop with a grade of "W:" July 20th

It is your responsibility to have (or have access to) a working computer in this class. Assignments and tests are due by the due date, and personal computer technical difficulties will not be considered a reason for the instructor to allow students extra time to submit assignments, tests, or discussion postings. Computers are available on campus in various areas of the buildings as well as in the Academic Success Center. Your computer being down is not an excuse for missing a deadline! There are many places to access your class. Our online classes can be accessed from any computer in the world which is connected to the internet. Contact your instructor immediately upon having computer trouble.
