Academic Misconduct Policy & Procedures

Academic Dishonesty: Cheating, collusion, and plagiarism (the act of using source material of other persons, either published or unpublished, without following the accepted techniques of crediting, or the submission for credit of work, not the individual's to whom credit is given). Additional guidelines on procedures in these matters may be found in the Office of Student Conduct.
Self-plagiarism: Commonly described as recycling or reusing one's own specific words from previously published or submitted work. While self-plagiarism does not cross the line of actual theft of others' ideas, it can create issues in the scholarly and academic realms. Beyond verbatim sections of text, self-plagiarism can also refer to the publication of identical papers in two places (sometimes called "duplicate publication.") Papers, projects, or other assignments previously submitted in other courses will not be accepted in this course.

Email/Course Announcement Requirements

You are required to access and review your emails and D2L Course Announcements regularly. I will often email the entire class with updates regarding your discussions, projects, and assignments. It is your responsibility to check your email regularly to prevent the possibility of missing important information.

Course Tools

1. Syllabus: contains the syllabus.
2. Announcements: All announcements will be posted under the NEWS section on the course homepage.
3. Weekly Course Content Modules: I have broken down your reading assignments, discussion boards, and exams/quizzes and placed them into individual weekly modules. You will also find PowerPoints that pertain to the assigned chapters for that week.
4. Learning Tools: Here, you will find information that may help you during this course, including online research databases tips and APA Guidelines.

Participation and Discussion

Participation and discussion will be based on initial posts and discussions with peers. It is important to remember that to be successful with the discussion board, you MUST discuss. Do not simply type "I agree" as a response to a peer's post. The earlier you post, the more successful everyone will be. During the weeks that include discussions, you must submit an initial post by Wednesday at 11:59 pm. Two substantial responses must be made within the discussion board by Sunday at 11:59 pm. Late posts do not allow for the possibility of good discussion; therefore, late posts are not accepted and will be graded as a "0". Each discussion has a max point value of six points. Two points will be given for your initial post, and two points will be given for each of your response posts. In all discussion boards, students are expected to:

- 1.) Raise thoughtful questions
- 2.) Incorporate content from readings
- 3.) Build on the ideas of others
- 4.) Synthesize across readings and discussions
- 5.) Expand the class' perspective
- 6.) Appropriately challenge assumptions and perspectives
- 7.) Use correct APA format, including in-text citations and complete references to support posts

8.) The initial post should be at least 250 words (approximately 1/2 page); read and respond (with at least 100 words) to two classmate's posts as appropriate using 3), 4), and 6) as guiding elements (avoid "I agree" or "good post" type comments.)

Exams

The student will read the chapter(s) and PowerPoint presentations associated with each exam. These exams may consist of multiple-choice, short answer, definitions, listing, true-false, or essay. Exams will have a time limit and may only be accessed once, which means that you cannot start the exam then return to it later. Please be sure that you set aside enough time to start and complete the exam in the allotted amount of time.

Book Review

The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks is a cautionary tale that reflects the inherent contradiction between the stated purpose of medical research: To provide benefit to humankind and the reality of blatant profiteering in the name of the advancement of science. The tragedy of the Henrietta Lacks saga should remind us all, especially those in the medical profession, that we have a responsibility to protect those we serve.

- Several ethical issues arise in this book: Identify at least two ethical issues that arise in the Henrietta Lacks case. What could have been done differently?
- Within your paper, cite at least three current (published within the last five years) peer-reviewed research articles that focus on your selected ethical issues. These sources should correlate with your subject content. Please do not hesitate to utilize additional sources.
- This assignment is to be APA formatted with in-text citations and typed utilizing a font no greater than 12 with 1-inch margins and double-spaced with page numbers. The amount of student-written material (excluding the Title Page and References) must total at least 3-5 pages. You will be graded on the overall coverage of the subject and the readability of your review. Points will be deducted for spelling and grammar. A grading rubric for the Book Review can be found in the D2L course Learning Tools.
- The report should be submitted under the assignment dropbox and is due no later than Sunday, April 17th.

Late Work

D2L is designed so that students are locked out of the system after the deadline has passed. Please make a note of all deadlines and adhere to them. All assignments must be completed by 11:59 pm on the due date. Any coursework not completed and submitted on time will be graded as a zero. Before the due date, don't hesitate to contact me regarding circumstances that may prevent you from completing an assignment on time.
