40%        3 Projects

20%        Optional Final Exam to replace lowest Exam.

Cheating: Unless instructed otherwise, each student is expected to write, design, code, enter, test, and validate his/her own work. To submit another's work (even partial) as your own is called plagiarism and is subject to severe action as stated in the MSU Student Handbook. Two students working together to complete an individual assignment is also considered cheating. Students are expected to see the instructor for help on assignments, if necessary. ~ ~ Cheating in any form will not be tolerated. This includes, but is not limited to, cheating on exams, turning in another's work as your own, turning in uncited work taken from the internet, & plagiarism on written work. Punishment may include an F in the course or expulsion from the university. (Refer to Student Handbook and Activities Calendar, Code of Student Conduct, Standards of Conduct, No. 11.)

Academic Misconduct Policy & Procedures

Cheating, collusion, and plagiarism (the act of using source material of other persons or devices, either published or unpublished, without following the accepted techniques of crediting, or the submission for credit of work not the individual's to whom credit is given). The Department of Computer Science has adopted the following policy related to cheating (academic misconduct). The policy will be applied to all instances of cheating on assignments and exams as determined by the instructor of the course. (See below for link to MSU definitions.)

- 1st instance of cheating in a course: The student will be assigned a non-replaceable grade of zero for the assignment, project or exam. If the final grade in the course, does not result in a one letter grade reduction, the student will receive a one letter grade reduction in course.
- 2nd instance of cheating in a course: The student will receive a grade of F in course & immediately be removed from course.
- All instances of cheating will be reported to the Department Chair and, in the case of graduate students, to the Department Graduate Coordinator.

Note: Letting a student look at your work is collusion and is academic misconduct!
