Academic Misconduct Policy & Procedures

Academic Dishonesty: Cheating, collusion, and plagiarism (the act of using source material of other persons, either published or unpublished, without following the accepted techniques of crediting, or the submission for credit of work, not the individuals to whom credit is given). Additional guidelines on procedures in these matters may be found in the Office of Student Conduct.

Self-plagiarism: Commonly described as recycling or reusing one's own specific words from previously published or submitted work. While self-plagiarism does not cross the line of actual theft of others' ideas, it can create issues in the scholarly and academic realms. Beyond verbatim sections of text, self-plagiarism can also refer to the publication of identical papers in two places (sometimes called "duplicate publication.") Papers, projects, or other assignments previously submitted in other courses will not be accepted in this course.

Discussion Boards

Discussion content and questions will be posted on certain weeks throughout the semester. You can see the weeks that will include a discussion assignment on the course schedule within the syllabus. During the weeks that include discussions, an initial post must be submitted by Wednesday at 11:59pm CST. Two substantial responses must be made within the discussion board by Sunday at 11:59pm CST. Each discussion has a max point value of six points. Two points will be given for your initial post and two points will be given for each of your two response posts. Points are earned and/or deducted by adhering to the topic, length, and due date. The required length associated with these assignments is a minimum of 200 words for an initial post and 100 words for your responses.

Case Study

Throughout the semester, I will assign case studies that cover the reading assignments for that specific week. I will not assign case studies during the same weeks you have discussion boards. You are to answer these case studies using the knowledge and understanding of what you have learned from your reading assignments. Some of these will be thought provoking and will require you to think outside the box. Some may ask specific knowledge based questions and some may require you to utilize your own opinions and thoughts. Your answers must have substantial information to back up your thoughts. A simple "yes" or "no" or "I agree with that" will not suffice. Your answers need to be saved as a WORD document and placed in the appropriate dropbox. Case Studies will not only be graded based on the accurateness of the answers but they will also be graded based on the students' efforts and the quality of their writing.

Quizzes

There will be a total of four quizzes, which will cover several chapters within the text. Students are expected to analyze and apply their education knowledge during these quizzes. Quizzes are located under assessments. You may use learning resources to help you with the quizzes; however, the quizzes are timed and may only be taken once.

Teaching Plan

Students must work individually to develop a teaching/lesson plan. You must submit your topic to the instructor for approval. A teaching plan is a detailed description of an individual lesson. Ideally, anyone who needed to teach over your topic should be able to utilize your lesson plan with little to no modifications. Your lesson plan should be developed well enough that the instructor would have everything that they would need to carry out your lesson. The teaching plan must have a minimum of three objectives, a target audience, any methods of instruction used, an evaluation of effectiveness, and thoroughly develop your topic. For example, if your reference a video or informational handout, I expect you to include those materials. You do not have to create those additional materials but you will be expected to give your sources credit. All outside sources must be cited in correct APA format. Each student will develop and submit their plan and then review/comment on two of their classmates teaching plans. There are multiple examples given for the teaching plan in the additional learning tools. There are many different ways to accomplish a teaching plan. You may utilize these or develop your own template. You may also reference the text on page 488-493. Teaching Plan due by December 8, 2024!

Late or Missed Assignments

Anything not completed and handed in on time will be subjected to a 20% per day penalty (weekends and holidays included). No exceptions! Missed labs or class days are not encouraged and students will be held accountable for all material covered during absences. Faculty members are not responsible for helping a student "make up" lab work. When possible arrangements should be made prior to the due date.

Important Dates

Last Day to drop with a grade of "W:" November 25, 2024.

Desire-to-Learn (D2L)

Extensive use of the MSU D2L program is a part of this course. Each student is expected to be familiar with this program as it provides a primary source of communication regarding assignments, examination materials, and general course information. You can log into D2L through the MSU Homepage. If you experience difficulties, please contact the technicians listed for the program or contact your instructor.

Online Computer Requirements

Taking an online class requires you to access a computer (with Internet access) to complete and upload your assignments. It is your responsibility to have (or have access to) a working computer in this class. Assignments and tests are due by the due date. Personal computer technical difficulties will not be considered a reason for the instructor to allow students extra time to submit assignments, tests, or discussion postings. Your computer being down is not an excuse for missing a deadline!! There are many places to access your class! Our online classes can be accessed from any computer globally, which is connected to the internet. Contact your instructor immediately upon having computer trouble. If you have technical difficulties in the course, there is also a student helpdesk available to you. The college cannot work directly on student computers due to both liability and resource limitations; however, we are able to help you get connected to our online services.
