Student Learning Outcomes

For music education and performance students, one key attribute for this class is to continue to foster your education on processes, techniques, and training tools that will be available to you on leaving MSU. We are here to create fantastic music educators and musicians first and foremost. The more preparation time put in at the beginning, the higher the progress will be seen.

SLOs are also aligned with the Texas Examinations of Educator Standards (TExES) State Board of Educator Certification (SBEC) EC-12 music standards. Please see Appendix A for a complete listing of the SBEC standards and corresponding course activities.

Course Materials

Desire to Learn Learning Management System (D2L)

Taking a class that uses D2L requires you to have access to a computer, phone, or tablet (with Internet access) to complete and upload your assignments. It is your responsibility to have (or have access to) a working phone or digital camera in this class. Assignments are due by the due date, and personal phone technical difficulties will not be considered reason for the instructor to allow students extra time to submit assignments. Contact your instructor immediately via email if you have technical difficulties in the course, there is also a student help desk available to you. The university cannot work directly on student computers or phones due to both liability and resource limitations; however, they are able to help you get connected to our online services. For help, log into D2L.

Brightspace Pulse

Please download this D2L application to your mobile device. It is available on both the Apple and Google Play app stores. Brightspace Pulse sends you push notifications for announcements, assignments, and grades. It also allows you to review course content offline when you have no cell service or wi-fi available.

Technology

All work for this course will be submitted digitally.

(Suggestion: Have a friend take the photo, making sure all items are visible in the frame.)

Students must receive permission to submit a selfie or concert review for an off-campus concert or recital. Click here to view suggestions for writing a concert review.

Attendance and Concert Etiquette Policies

Students do not need to alert the instructor when they miss a performance. If a student doesn't attend a recital or concert, they just need to choose a different one to attend until they accumulate the 30 points for the semester.

Concert Etiquette

Click here to view the concert etiquette guidelines provided by the Des Moines Symphony Orchestra for their audiences.

Disrespectful Behavior

A student observed being openly disrespectful at a performance will not receive attendance credit and may face further consequences as outlined by the MSU Texas student handbook.

Disrespectful behavior includes, but is not limited to:

- Consuming food, gum, or beverages besides water in the performance venue
- Fighting or engaging in romantic activities in the performance venue
- Having headphones on during a performance
- Talking loudly during a performance
- Watching videos during a performance

Students are advised not to take advantage of this extremely lenient phone policy, or it will be changed. Students who use their phones inappropriately or excessively during a performance may be flagged for disrespectful behavior and asked to leave the recital.

Academic Success

Accommodation Policies

In accordance with Section 504 of the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Midwestern State University endeavors to make reasonable accommodations to ensure equal opportunity for qualified persons with disabilities to participate in all educational, social, and recreational programs and activities. After notification of acceptance, students requiring accommodations should make application for such assistance through Disability Support Services, located in the Clark Student Center, Room 168, (940) 397-4140. Current documentation of a disability will be required to provide appropriate services, and each request will be individually reviewed. For more details, please go to Disability Support Services.

Hearing Loss and Health Statement

As a musician, your hearing is one of your most valuable assets. Unfortunately, high exposure to sound-producing activities can lead to noise-induced hearing loss. While this can be temporary, it can lead to tinnitus (ringing in the ears), permanent loss of hearing (particularly in the higher frequencies), and deafness. In addition to affecting a student's enjoyment of music, it also may render them incapable of continuing as a professional musician or music educator.

Musicians are also susceptible to musculoskeletal and vocal injury, particularly overuse injury. Failure to take adequate precautions can greatly shorten a student's performing career.

Means to minimize risks associated with hearing loss and performance-related injuries will be discussed during applied lessons and/or masterclasses. Faculty can only present information to students and offer resources and assistance in seeking professional medical help when needed. The student has the final responsibility to take proper precautions.
