Research and Scholarly Activity

- Book: On April 17, 2001, The Edwin Mellen Press brought out my book Craft and Anti-Craft in Chaucer’s Canterbury Tales. A little less than half of it served as my Ph.D. dissertation in 1994. The book concerns Chaucer’s Canterbury Tales, medieval rhetoric (Geoffrey of Vinsauf’s Poetria Nova), usage of the term craft/craeft in Old and Middle English works culminating in Chaucer, as well as Latin precedents. At issue is proto-humanist epistemology in Early English Literature, with reference to Cicero, Boethius, Augustine, and Aquinas. All translation of Old English and Latin is my own.

- Anthology “Ironic Revelation in Springsteen.” Ch. 10 of Reading the Boss: Interdisciplinary Approaches to the Works of Bruce Springsteen. Ed. Roxanne Harde and Irwin Streight. Lanham, MD: Lexington (Rowman & Littlefield), 2010. 201-222.
- Editor In Geardagum: Essays on Old and Middle English (1999-2011). Annual publication of The Society for New Language Study. IG was a juried publication that used a “double blind” system to assess submissions. Edited the last 11 issues (vols. 20-30). The Society for New Language Study and In Geardagum, its principal publication, were founded in Denver, Colorado, in the 1970’s by the University of Denver medievalist, Raymond P. Tripp, Jr.
- February, 2006, Edited galleys for posthumous article by Raymond P. Tripp, Jr., “Beowulf 3182B: Lofgeornost, ‘Most Eager to Praise’,” for Neuphilologische Mitteilungen (Bulletin of the Modern Language Society), journal published by the University of Helsinki. Submitted corrections by hard-copy and e-mail, Feb. 2, 2006, to editorial secretary, Marja Ursin.
- Served as editor of the inaugural issue of WordView: Studies in Literary Epistemology (Winter 1996). Sponsored by the Society for New Language Study.
- Secretary Assumed full secretarial duties (archives, subscription, and mailing of the journal In Geardagum) after death of Dr. Tripp in 2005. In 2009-2010, assisted MSU professor & noted myth scholar Evans Lansing Smith in trouble-shooting, printing, and mailing copies of the annual journal he founded and edited, New Myth.
- Preface Preface for The Influence of Boethius De Consolatione Philosophiae on John Milton’s Paradise Lost. by Jeffrey H. Taylor and Leslie A. Taylor. Edwin Mellen, 2016. i- vi.

Review of Shaped by Stories: The Ethical Power of Narratives (Notre Dame: U of Notre Dame P, 2009) by Gregory Marshall. JAEPL (The Journal of the Assembly for Expanded Perspectives on Learning—an affiliate of the NCTE) 21 (Winter 2015-16): 131-33. Print.

Review of The Lyric Theory Reader: A Critical Anthology, edited by Virginia Jackson and Yopie Prins. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins, 2014. Rocky Mountain Review 69.1 (2015): 99-102.

Articles

“Outlaw Pete: Bruce Springsteen and the Dream-Work of Cosmic American Music.” BOSS: The Biannual Online-Journal of Springsteen Studies 2.1 (2016): 9-40.

“God be at your table! Cup, Minister, and Perverse Gospel in Shakespeare’s Hamlet.” Proceedings of the Ninth Annual Northern Plains Conference on Early British Literature. [Ed. Nicholas Wallerstein and Roger Ochse] 9 (2002): 7-25.

“Thomist Metaphysics, Idealism, and Owen Barfield: Towards an Epistemological Criticism.” Journal of Evolutionary Psychology [Ed. Paul Neumark] 20.3-4 (August 2000): 178-87.

“The Missal of Robert of Jumieges: A Review Article.” In Geardagum [Ed. Raymond P. Tripp, Jr.] 16 (1995): 9-32. Much more than a review per se: I examined the newly-reprinted Latin missal (reflecting early 11th/late 10th century English worship) in depth, and provided my own translation and annotation of its unique features, including its numerous prefaces for important feasts, collects for the late 10th century English saint Edward Martyr, unique pre-Sarum Holy Week language derived from Virgil’s Georgics and Aeneid, and some rubrics for anointing the sick in Old English.

“Bawdy Games, Cosmic Union, and Palimpsestic Continuity in Wolfgang Rudat’s Earnest Exuberance in Chaucer’s Poetics.” Review in In Geardagum [Ed. Raymond P. Tripp, Jr.] 15 (1994): 99-103.

“Chaucer’s Cecile as Christian Humanist Disputer of the Sacred.” In Geardagum [Ed. Raymond P. Tripp, Jr.] 15 (1994): 29-39. I argue that Chaucer’s saint’s legend is more internalized (and less miraculous) than Old English and Latin precedents.

Awards and Honors

Promoted to Associate Professor by the Board of Regents, May 9, 2008.

May 16, 2007, Noted medievalist Fred C. Robinson (Yale University) offered this commendation: “In Geardagum is clearly in very good hands; your editorship bodes well for the future of the journal. Both in content and format you are taking it to new heights. The Lynd Ward illustration on the cover is an inspired selection.”

Awarded tenure by the Board of Regents, May 12, 2006.

In 1999, Raymond P. Tripp, Jr. (University of Denver) named me as editor of In Geardagum: Essays on Old and Middle English. Well-known medieval scholar Fred C. Robinson (Yale University) praises this journal as “absolutely unique” in its field (letter, January 2, 2004). Of my editorship, he wrote (in a letter, April 28, 2005), “It is clear that In Geardagum is now in excellent hands.”
