Course Description

The language teaching community agrees that learning language and culture are inextricably connected. Thus, this course focuses on developing students' German-language proficiency through modes of communication that reflect real life communication in the varied cultures of the German-speaking world. By employing interpersonal, interpretive and presentational communicative modes in German, students will explore the ideas, values, beliefs and other cultural aspects in German-speaking countries and how these aspects work together to affect human experience.

Course Goals

German 2233 covers Auf geht's Unit 11-12 and various selected texts (e.g. poems, short stories, excerpts, etc.) and continues to develop the four major language skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing in a highly authentic cultural context. This course will provide you with an ever-expanding set of vocabulary and grammar rules, as well as cultural knowledge, so that you will feel comfortable conversing in German about a wide range of topics. These topics include, but are not limited to your family, your studies, your likes and dislikes, your hobbies, and important historical events. You will learn to interpret German texts from a variety of sources and media and enhance your knowledge of cultural differences and similarities between German-speaking countries and your own. By the completion of this course, students who have attended classes regularly and successfully completed all listening, written, lab, and computer assignments, as well as all exams (with a minimum grade of B-) should be able to:

- (a) Provide information about themselves, their families, interests, likes and dislikes, as well as daily activities in German.
- (b) Read, understand the main ideas, and pick out important information from a variety of literary texts (e.g. poems, fairy tales, short stories, comics, etc.).
- (c) Provide general information about German-speaking countries (e.g. culture, geography, weather, formal versus informal addresses, customs).

- (d) Pronounce German well enough to be comprehensible to a German speaker accustomed to speaking to foreigners.
- (e) Describe and illustrate aspects of the cultures of German-speaking countries and make comparisons between these cultures and his/her own culture using basic linguistic structures and vocabulary in the target language.
- (f) Evaluate his/her own values, behaviors and worldviews on the socio-cultural topics presented and compare these to those of German-speakers.

Classwork: Participation and Attendance

Attendance is taken every class meeting. Students are required to be in class for the entire 75-minute period. Students may be counted absent if arriving more than 10 minutes late or leaving class early. This syllabus serves as notice that a student may be dropped from the class without further notification if absent more than four times.

Absences due to official university functions or documented illness will be dealt with on an individual basis and should be discussed with the instructor outside of class time. There are no excused absences from regular class periods. If a student misses an exam, he or she must present documented proof of illness or university activity to the instructor before a make-up exam will be allowed.

Quizzes

There will be regular 5-10 min.-long quizzes, as announced as in the Course Schedule, in which you will show how you have mastered the material of the previous day(s). Quizzes may not be made up, unless students can provide appropriate documentation for their absences (medical or university duty).

Essays and Tests

There will be three (3) essays and three (3) tests. Both will be administered on the dates announced in the Course Schedule.

Essays will be written in German language and must contain at least 200 words. For the preparation, it is not necessary to consult other sources than the ones used in class. The instructions for the essays will be posted on D2L.

Tests will cover the material in individual chapters from the textbook and from various text selection (e.g. poem, excerpts, movies, bioclips, etc.) forms discussed in class. Tests will also build upon previously discussed materials. No tests will be made up without a valid medical excuse. You must e-mail me before the exam is administered, or at least right after the test. If you miss a test and are not properly excused, your grade is calculated as 0.

Presentation

You will need to give a short presentation (3-4 minutes) in German language. You have the choice of either creating a poster or a PowerPoint. You will select one author from a list of authors provided and present his/her biography and his/her major works. Select an author that really interests you and demonstrates that you have engaged with this author's biography and works intensely. You will present your selected author during class.

Final Exam

This is a two-hour long written comprehensive final exam scheduled that covers the material of the whole semester. The Final Exam for this course is scheduled for Tuesday, May 9, 2023 from 10:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. Location: TBA

Make Up Work/Exams

Students may make up missed tests, quizzes, and essays only with a valid medical or university excuse within one week of the missed quiz, essay or test. If you know you will miss an exam due to an official university function, please make arrangements with your instructor prior to the absence and as soon as possible. If you are absent from an exam, you must present documented proof of illness or university activity to your instructor before an early or make-up exam will be scheduled.

Each student is expected to be familiar with this program as it provides a primary source of communication regarding assignments, examination materials, and general course information. You can log into D2L through the MSU Homepage. If you experience difficulties, please contact the technicians listed for the program or contact your instructor.

Homework

Homework (written, studying and/or reading) is due as stated in the course schedule. Check the schedule to find the corresponding assignments for each class meeting. Homework handouts are located on D2L. You must print, then submit the completed homework handout hardcopy in class on the due date. Technology Policy

One of the most important skills in learning a foreign language is the ability to improvise when you cannot remember a specific word or phrase. In order to build this skill and avoid distraction, you are asked to refrain from using electronic devices, such as cell phones, during class time. Unless you have spoken with me about a specific situation regarding the use of technology in the classroom, points will be deducted from your participation grade if your instructor sees you using laptops, cell phones etc. during class. On the rare occasion that such devices are required for class, your instructor will notify you in advance.

Instructor Policy

Please be polite to your instructor and fellow students. Pay attention to the instructor and to your fellow students when they are speaking. Do not engage your classmates in conversation in English during class.

No food or drinks, except for water, are allowed in our classrooms.

Email Policy

I will check email daily Monday through Friday and will make every effort to answer you within 24 hours. On the weekend, however, I might not be able to answer as quickly. Please make sure that you adhere to common rules of courtesy such as addressing me by name/title (Dr. Gagum), proofing spelling, and signing your name at the end of the email.

Name/Pronoun Policy

Learning a foreign language requires an interactive classroom environment. Therefore, it is important that we strive to make the classroom a respectful and inclusive place. If you feel comfortable doing so, you are encouraged to let me know during the first week of class what name you prefer to be called and if you prefer the use of masculine, feminine, or gender neutral pronouns. These preferences can be applied just to your interactions with me or to all of your in-class interactions with your peers.

Notice

Changes in the course syllabus, procedure, assignments, and schedule may be made at the discretion of the instructor.
