Course Description

The language teaching community agrees that learning language and culture are inextricably connected. Thus, this course focuses on developing students' Spanish- language proficiency through modes of communication that reflect real life communication in the varied cultures of the Spanish-speaking world. By employing interpersonal, interpretive and presentational communicative modes in Spanish, students will explore the ideas, values, beliefs and other cultural aspects of Spanish-speaking peoples across the world and how these aspects work together to affect human experience.

Skills and Outcomes

By the end of the course, students will have developed solid competencies in each of the five goal areas (the five C's): Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons, and Communities. Main objectives include:

1. Ability to comprehend and respond to basic conversational patterns
2. Proficiency and knowledge of basic grammatical structures and terminologies
3. Basic proficiency in reading and writing the language
4. Knowledge of significant cultural practices and historical events from the Spanish-speaking world

5. Ability to use technology for e-mail and research of selected topics in Spanish

6. Ability to use the Supersite for oral and written practice of Spanish

Study Hours and Tutoring Assistance

At least three hours of study are required on a daily basis for this course, including weekends. If you need tutoring, please contact the Academic Support Office: <https://msutexas.edu/academics/tasp/on-campus.php> .

Also, your online component has tutorials about grammar and vocabulary embedded in each chapter: VHL Central Supersite, in addition, you will find slides on D2I for each grammar topic. If you have a problem during the course, please email your professor immediately.

Instructor Class Policies

This class covers one semester of content, prepare your homework and study daily if you want to be successful. The following are rules you will need to take seriously in order to pass this class:

1. You are responsible for going over the section 'Read Me First' on d2I to understand how this course is going to work.
2. In order to be successful in this course and be able to absorb the material, it's important to devote up to three hours of study daily.
3. Any kind of cheating, plagiarism, or collusion will result in penalties going from a zero in a particular activity to a zero for the entire course. Be aware that using a translation app or having a 'friend' doing your work is cheating. The decision to drop you from the course is at the discretion of the professor: do not risk your grade!
4. On d2I, there are no make ups for any assignment, once the deadline has passed, d2I automatically will assign you a zero.
5. On Vhl, you can submit late homework with a 10% deduction from your assignment grade per missing day. Your homework needs to be done by the end of the chapter when grades are entered on D2L. There will be homework assigned for every day of the week, many times including weekends, that will help to reduce the number of assignments per day.

6. The final grades are the ones entered on D2L and not the ones on Vhl.

7. You are responsible for learning how to use the d2l and the vhl program by following your professor's instructions on the 'Read Me First' section, if you fail an assignment under the excuse that you didn't understand how the technology works, there will be nothing your professor can do to help you. If you have questions always contact your professor ahead the exam, never on the day of the exam, because you are risking for her not to see your email on time.

8. This class covers one semester of content, prepare your homework and study daily if you want to be successful. The Final Exam is comprehensive; thus, it covers the content of the entire semester, chapters 1 to 5. There is also a Midterm Exam covering chapters 1 to 3.

9. Your professor is willing to give you guidance if you are struggling with a particular topic, but she is not going to become your personal tutor throughout the summer session. If you need constant assistance with your Spanish, please consider visiting the tutoring center:

<https://msutexas.edu/academics/tasp/>

10. You are responsible for checking d2l and Vhl daily for assignments and daily email communications. You have chosen to take this course online, so please make sure you have a computer with a camera and microphone able to record, with a speaker able to play sound, and a system that can carry d2l and zoom. Important to note that Chromebooks are NOT recommended for this course since they are not compatible with d2l.

If you need to contact the professor, please send her an email to Claudia.Montoya@msutexas.edu

You will receive an answer the same day.

Vhl Homework and Tutorials

You will have daily assignments from the VHL Central Supersite. This supersite is the one that comes with your textbook. Once you enter the section with their online activities you will see they divide them in several sections:

- Preparación: is the section for vocabulary, each chapter of the book comes with a vocabulary section (your book in the package is called vText, use it to study before you do the homework). Also, for homework a section title 'Tutorial' pertaining to vocabulary where you can practice pronunciation and memorization of words, will be assigned each chapter on vhl, there is nothing to do in these tutorials but to watch them as you were in the class watching your professor repeating vocabulary.
- Pronunciación: is the section with some pronunciation activities.
- Aventuras: this section is very important, it is a mini-series like a soap opera, and it comes with activities for after viewing each video.
- Cultura: is a small reading about a cultural topic.
- Flash Cultura: is a brief video about a cultural topic, different than the reading in the previous section.
- Gramática: please study this section in the vText (the book), but I have also prepared slides that I have posted under content on d2l. The grammar points are organized by chapters. We start the course with chapter 1, so the first grammar topic of chapter 1 is 1.1, the second one 1.2 and so forth. Each chapter has about two or three grammar topics.

On vhl you can find your homework under 'calendar' so you can see the amount of homework that has been assigned weekly.

Only for the homework you will have a chance to submit the same activity up to three times, being the third time your last chance, on the same day; but make sure what you are completing is homework, because for quizzes and participation you will have only one attempt, the first one, so pay attention to the kind of activity you are doing. Also, ONLY FOR HOMEWORK, you will be able to turn in late work, but you will receive a 10% deduction of your grade for EACH late day. Also, once your professor places the grades on D2I, no more late homework is accepted for that chapter, so if you have missed homework by the time your professor has entered the grades on D2I, you will receive a grade of zero with no possibility to change it.

Vhl Quizzes / D2L Vocabulary Quizzes

On Vhl you will have, besides the homework, quizzes. You will find them the same way you find the homework, but they will say quizzes. Make sure you have studied and done your homework to practice before you take these quizzes, because you only have ONE attempt at taking them, if you fail the quiz, you cannot re-take it, unlike the homework. Also, you have to take the quizzes on the due date, failing to do this will grant you a zero for the quiz. On d2I you will always have a vocabulary quiz, at the beginning of the chapter, the due date will be just right after you have completed your vocabulary practice on Vhl. These vocabulary quizzes will be designed by your professor, and will be true or false, multiple choice, matching, etc.

Participation

Participation is made up of a section called "Repaso" on Vhl at the end of each chapter, for each chapter you will have two reviews: Repaso de gramática and Repaso de vocabulario. You will have only one chance at each answer, so make sure you have completed the chapter before doing these activities. You will be allowed to turn participation activities late, but you will be deducted 10% of the grade each day that you are late on each single activity you are late. Also, once your professor places the grades on D2I, no more late participation is accepted for that chapter, and usually the repasos, which count towards participation, come at the end of the chapter, close to when the professor 'collects' the grades.

Writing Activities

At the end of each chapter you will be asked to submit a small composition related to the content of each chapter on D2L. Students at this level will make some mistakes and that is fine. If the professor finds the language you use and the grammar to be way more advanced than Elementary Spanish I, your professor may give you a zero for the activity under the suspicion you have used an app to translate/write your work. If you challenge the professor's decision, you will have to write a similar composition in front of her to demonstrate you have the level of Spanish you show in your work, you also will have to answer to oral questions on the spot, different from your in person oral activity to demonstrate you have the level of Spanish your writing shows. Do not risk it!

D2L Speaking Practice

The speaking practice will take place on d2l, and it will be posted under assignments, you will be given a set of questions based on the Aventuras mini- series that is part of your Vhl package, and some open questions. You will be assigned a video of the mini- series each chapter, and you will have regular online homework for it; but also, the questions of the oral practice will be based on the chapter you see. There will be a total of five oral practices: some of the questions will be directly about the mini-series and other questions will be prompted by the mini-series. For this section you need to use the tools provided on D2L to record yourself answering the questions, you will need to submit a video/voice recording, so you have to have a functional camera, and your face should be clearly visible. Also, you should record all your answers at once and submit only one file: under no circumstances you can submit a file for each answer. Do not use an app for recording, use the recording tools that exist on D2L. If your professor can't open the file because you failed to follow the instructions, you will receive a zero for the activity. The course goes by too fast to be accepting late work.

D2L Chapter Quizzes

These chapter quizzes will help you to review for the exam: you will have one chapter quiz at the end of each chapter. You will have a total of five- chapter quizzes with a total value of 10 percent. The chapter quizzes will be extensive, they will cover vocabulary and grammar, and culture, they will have multiple choice, matching, true or false, fill in the blank activities, listening activities, but also will have open questions and writing sentences. If you are suspected of getting help your answer these chapter quizzes, you will receive a zero for the quiz and if the behavior persists, you will be dropped from the course.

Live Speaking Activity

Towards the end of the summer session, between chapters 4 and 5, there will be one Live Speaking Exam via zoom. You will receive the available times to schedule your appointment before the interviews take place, as well as the zoom link. The questions for the interview will be similar to the ones asked in the practice, but not the same. Your professor will give you a set of possible questions, but she will ask you, as well, questions outside the list.

Midterm Exam

There is a Midterm exam that covers chapter 1 -3. You will be tested on vocabulary, grammar, writing and culture. Be careful not to use translation apps or any other type of help because if you are suspected of cheating, you may receive a zero for either the section of the exam where cheating is suspected or for the entire exam if the cheating seems pervasive. If you challenge the professor's decision, you will have to write in front of her similar activities (but not the same) than those on the exam to prove you really know the material. The Midterm Exam is 15% of your total grade. The Midterm exam will last one hour, it will be given in an specific date, and you will choose a time between 8am and 8pm to take it. There are no make ups; so, be prepared.

Final Exam

The final exam is scheduled for Friday, July 5th. From 8am to 8pm. There are no make-ups, and you will need to use lockdown browser with webcam proctoring. Make sure you mark your calendar because if you miss the exam you will receive a zero. You have the date and time in advance, plan ahead to avoid any problem. The final exam covers the content of chapters 1 to 5 and it will last two hours, the exam will be open between 8am and 8pm for you to choose a time to take it, make sure you give yourself two hours to take it; so make sure you start ahead of time. The final Exam is 20% of your total grade.

Make up Work / Tests /Dropped Grades

Be aware that ONLY Homework on vhl can be turned in late, but you will be deducted 10% from your grade per each late day on each assignment you are late; the same applies to Participation activities on vhl; other than that, ANY late assignment will receive a zero. There is no late acceptance for any of the assignments/tests on D2L. The summer session goes by fast, stay on top of your work.

At the end of the semester, the lowest grade of vocabularyD2l/ Vhl quizzes, homework, and participation will be dropped, one on each category.
